Cellulaze Addendum

Thank you for choosing QnA Cosmetic Surgery to provide your cosmetic services.

Cellulaze is priced by the number of squares being treated. Although you will be given a fair estimate of the number of squares within the treatment site during your consultation, it is common for people to add squares on the day of the procedure. Time permitted, adding squares on the day of your procedure is acceptable. The price is $100 per square added, and this cost is payable on the day of your procedure. Conversely, if you subtract squares, the cost per square ($100) will be credited to your account on the day of your procedure.

Cellulaze is FDA approved for reduction of cellulite with one treatment. Results will vary based upon the individual. Retreatment is possible after one year, although no studies have evaluated this protocol. Full pricing for retreatment will apply.
